EDITORIAL NOTES.

A World Paris special, speaking of the Monetary Conference, says: The Americans here are unanimous in thinking that the results of the conference are highly satisfactory, as the bimetallic propaganda is everywhere assuming increased proportions, while monometalism makes no converts. That England is uneasy is evidenced by offers not only to meet half-way in keeping part of the metallic reserve in silver, but to confine the Indian standard of silver. The Americans claim that the manager of the Bank of England is the latest convert to bimetalism.

Territorial life is spicy. An Arizona desperado, while waiting for the noose, sent a letter of discouragement to a lively cowboy on the outside: "Don't be too handy with your pistol, Bill, and stand a heap from a man before you kill him." He forgave everybody, and had a hope of the usual blessed hereafter etc.

On Saturday the Leader said: The Supreme Court is taking an unconscionably long time in deciding the Insane Asylum case.

On Saturday the case was decided, and as matter of fact it took less time than any case ever before the Court. The Leader dictionary will soon be issued.

The business of the week at New York has been broken into by the public excitement over the Washington news, the subsequent holiday and the excessive heat. The consequence was a reduced volume of trade and some irregularity in prices. The general feeling of confidence in the mercantile community is unshaken.

The San Jose Mercury suggests that there should be a special law for the punishment of those who attempt to take the life of the Presidents, and that any citizen be permitted to kill such assassins on sight, whether they be sane or crazy, when the assassination or attempt to assassinate is positively known.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

NEVADA.

The Trojan hoisting works burned Thursday night.

The Ottawa Hotel was burned in Eureka Thursday. Loss, $8,000; insurance, $6,000.

White Pine News: We learn that the Spruce Mountain company has commenced work on their property at that place, after a suspension of several years. They are repairing the furnace, have put men on the mine, and evidently mean business.

Last Sunday G. E. Nash, formerly Assessor of Lyon county, while at work in the carpenter shop at Sutro, by some accidental slip had his left hand caught in a circular saw. The hand was so nearly cut off that it was found necessary to amputate it at a point just above the wrist.

Times-Review: The work of clearing away the debris of the burnt works, repairing the shaft, building a blacksmith shop, etc., is going on briskly at the Navajo. Superintendent Price to-day purchased the building, machinery, etc., of the lower shaft hoisting works of the Grand Prize mine. These will be immediately removed and re-erected at the Navajo.

The Leader announces to the citizens of Eureka that the building of the Eureka & Colorado River Railroad is a fixed fact. The company has secured ample means to build the road. Their surveyors have been in the field for several days laying out the route, and as soon as the route is determined the work of grading will be commenced at Eureka and pushed with all the energy that unlimited means will command.

At San Jose, Friday, G. Paul, driving on the Alameda with his son, attempted to cross the track of the South Pacific Coast Railroad ahead of an approaching train. The engine struck the rear part of the wagon, knocking it into splinters, and throwing Paul and his son across the street. Paul was badly hurt.

TERRITORIES.

The Yuma, A. T. Sentinel hears that a requisition for $260,000 will be made on the Territory for penitentiary purposes.

The execution of Thomas Harper for the murder of John Toliday on the 17th of last September took place in Tucson Saturday. The scaffold was erected in the jail yard. About 60 persons were admitted.

An Idaho prospector lately followed Custer's famous trail. Up toward the Rosebud, while encamped, he noticed a little bunch of grass. Thinking it a bird's nest, he proceeded to examine it. Tearing the tuft asunder he found a small silver watch, Swiss make, lying face downward. Upon examination the works were bright and clean, and to-day the little relic of the lost command keeps as good time as it did five years ago. Searching further Mr. Smith discovered a six shooting Smith & Wesson revolver with unfired cartridges in it.

Secretary Blaine is kept busy but does not flinch from his post of duty for an instant. He has won many friends by his course in rebuking the spirit of faction, and indignantly denying sensational rumors.

Dividend Paying Town.

N. Y. Sun.

Recently the municipality of Schopp, a small town in the Rhenish Palatinate, finding its receipts largely in excess of its expenditures, resolved to dispose of the cash balance at its command by presenting to every householder within the civic precincts the handy little sum of $12 50. A similar repartition of surplus income took place a few years ago, upon which still more propitious occasion each rate-paying citizen received a bonus of $36 from the town. The solution of life's most difficult problem—how to eat your cake and have it too—has obviously been attained in Schopp.

Miss Hannah Cox of Holderness, N. H., reached her 106th birthday on the 26th ult., and was visited by a number of friends.

A splendid palace, costing a million and a quarter dollars, is being built near Rothsay, Scotland, for Lord Bute.

Jester and Judge.

N. Y. World.

With a view, says Vanity Fair, to further the "mission of civilization" in the regency of Tunis, M. Roustan has induced the Bey to appoint Sir Hsuna Meteli President of the Municipal Council and Administrator of the Religious Corporations, in the place of General Zaruk. This person was for thirty years the Bey's jester. His son on the same day was nominated Director of the Sadikya College. It is unfortunate for the future of public education under the new regime that he can neither read nor write.

A Startling Snake Scene.

A strange incident is told of a black snake, four feet long, that was found near the grave of a colored man. As soon as the coffin was lowered the snake sprang upon it, opening its mouth and sticking out its tongue menacingly. The attending clergyman asserted that the object on the coffin was not a snake, but was something supernatural. The men then reluctantly covered the snake and left for their homes.

Truckee Tidings.

Mrs. Geo. Grant died at Sierraville, Saturday morning, at 8 A. M. after an illness of only three days. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Robb, old citizens of Truckee, and a sister of Mrs. J. D. Fagg. Mr. Grant is brakeman on the passenger from here to Winnemucca. Her remains were brought to Reno for interment. The funeral took place from the M. E. Church this morning.

Mr. J. Adolphe is making extensive alterations in his clothing establishment.

Mrs. Alt will give her soiree on next Thursday evening as usual. During Mrs. Alt's teaching in Truckee, her school has increased wonderfully and there is always a large attendance every Thursday evening.

Several business men have purchased a football and the sport is indulged in every evening on the plaza, much to the amusement of the spectators.

There are a very large number of tourists in and around Truckee at present. The stages are loaded down every morning for Tahoe and Sierra Valley.

Eagle Lake.

Seymour J. Bryant, who lately visited Grantville, informs the GAZETTE that P. N. Marker has recently settled all accounts against the Eagle Lake enterprise, and has authorized a vigorous continuation of the work. Marker is a good man for any county or community, and Lassen and Modoc can congratulate themselves on securing his attention.

Charity.

Mrs. M. A. Harney was soliciting charity to-day for the purpose of sending Mr. Negley to the Springs. Mr. Negley has been suffering for years from rheumatism, and his wife has supported him by glove making. It is hoped that he might recover if he could visit some health resort in California or Nevada.

The Mandamus Case.

The Supreme Court adjourned on Saturday until September 5th. No decision was rendered in the Hoole mandamus case.

THE WHITE FIR.

It is Making Friends and Promises to be Held More Valuable than it has been.

A strong prejudice has always existed in the minds of sawmill men and dealers against the tree which abounds more abundantly than any other, except one, on the eastern slope of the Sierra, and perhaps stands first in point of numbers on the other side. The white fir has been considered the poorest of all her tribe, both as a building material and as fuel. It was said to rot very quickly in the ground, and for that reason made poor railroad ties. Its grain is coarse and the knots are very hard, so it does not dress well, is another objection to it. That a long exposure to the air makes it almost as hard as iron, and it is impossible to drive a nail into it; when burned in a stove or grate it snaps and frizzes, throwing out a constant shower of sparks and burning up anything in its reach. It has laid many a good house in ashes, and the carpets it has ruined would cover the county. Its heating qualities are so inferior that the railroad discriminates against it twenty-five cents a cord in favor of pine. It catches fire slowly, as its sap is not so inflammable as the pine. It has no pitch or turpentine to speak of, and if anyone wants to see a mad engineer or fireman, let them get on a locomotive loaded up with green fir wood.

Notwithstanding all these disadvantages it has been found that there are places for which the despised white fir is peculiarly fitted, and it is rising in the estimation of its acquaintances slowly but surely. Its strong tough fiber hold a nail like a vice, and it is recognized now that no other rafters will hang to the shingles so hard in a wind storm. For studying it is equal to any timber that grows. It stands firm and never sags or sivers, and if the rustic is well nailed on, so that no sunshine or wind can get through, it makes a wall good for a century. It makes better fencing than pine, for it warps less. The use of a wood for railroad ties is one of the severest tests it can have. The constant hammering of the wheels upon the rails soon wears away a soft or inferior wood, and the pressure on curves gives the rail a motion which will loosen the spikes unless they are held firmly. The Central Pacific is now making some experiments with white fir, with an idea of using it for ties on the desert. The heart of a white fir tree is said to be well suited for the purpose. It is likely that the vast forests of white fir may be a source of wealth to unappreciative owners.

Wholesale Butchers.

From David Symmes, bookkeeper for Hays, Carrick & Co., wholesale butchers, Oakland, the GAZETTE learned that the firm slaughtered between January 1st, 1880 and January 1st, 1881, 10,500 head of cattle. They find ready sale for the hides, horns, hearts, tongues, tallow and tails. A large amount of neatfoot oil is made from the feet, etc. The bones are sold and the blood and other offal is fed to hogs. Of eight carloads of cattle shipped last Friday from Reno, six went to Hays, Carrick & Co., at Oakland.

Who Saw It First.

The question of who discovered the present comet has become a momentous one. Over 500 persons have laid claim to the honor and the Warner Prize, and all of them are within comparatively the same time. It is desirable that no injustice be done in this matter, and to this end all parties who saw the comet during the week ending June 25th, or previously will please forward their claims with out delay to Prof. Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y. It is certain that the discovery was made by a private individual, but who that individual is remains to be seen.

Business Manager.

The increasing business and circulation of the GAZETTE renders a further division of the work necessary. Allen C. Bragg will in the future have sole charge of the business matters of this office, and all communications addressed to him will receive prompt attention.

Old Hickory.

"Jack Hutch" when back East, sent to Dave McFarland, a genuine hickory club from Iowa. When Dave returns from his health search it will be unsafe to approach him. He will now be known as "Old Hickory," because he is a Democrat, and wears a club all the same Jackson.

MINING MATTERS.

A Reno Superintendent on Antelope and a Portion of Eureka Districts.

At the Antelope mine they are running a crosscut from the 150 level to cut the Mars ledge. It is expected that the ledge will be tapped at a distance of 300 feet from the station. The cut is now going forward at the rate of 4 feet per day and is already in 24 feet. The Mars ledge, which will be tapped by this work, is the boss ledge of this mining property. Captain Griffin has recently returned from a visit to Eureka where he went to inspect the Titus Consolidated and Bowman mines in the Adams Hill group. In the Bowman mine a good body of ore has been encountered on the 50 and 100 foot levels. This vein is 2 1/2 or 3 feet in width and assays $135 in gold and silver. The Titus Consolidated is now running a crosscut from the 350 level which will tap the Williamsburg ledge at a distance of 300 feet. These two properties are looking very well and Captain Griffin is very much pleased at the outlook.

The Washoe "Times."

M. T. Coats has a copy of the first paper published in Washoe county. It was published October 26, 1863, by G. W. Derickson, and edited by Gen. Jas. Allen. It was a neat-looking paper. The C. P. R. R. routes across the Summit were taboed because the snow was too deep. It was thought they could only run about 6 or 8 months a year. Another route was projected by way of Beckworth Pass and Valley, down the Middle Fork of Feather river to Oroville and Marysville; thence to San Francisco. The eastern route was to be from Beckworth Pass up Long Valley to Alkali Lake to Pea Vine Springs, Pyramid Lake, and thence to Humboldt river. Other routes, via Placerville, were also projected.

Plenty of Water.

Lake Tahoe is nearly five feet above her natural level, or at least over four. One gate is open and two closed and unless more of a head is turned on it will be impossible to drain the surplus water off before it rains. The dam at Tahoe has been of immense service to the farmers of this valley. It holds it back in the spring and thus prevents floods and lets it come gradually so that there is a good head all summer and fall, without the dam the river would be very nearly dry in September and October so say the old settlers.

Wild Whiskey.

A Reno man visited Carson recently and in his peregrinations met Farmer Treadway. After "canvassing" the weather the pair strolled into Dealey's and gave the usual order.

"How is it Tread," asked the Reno man, "that you always put water in your whiskey?"

"Well, my son, I've canvassed the proposition and when a man's swingin' round the circle, he caroms on some very shifless whiskey. I put water in it and then it's always on hand."

The Turners' Picnic.

The picnic of the Virginia, Carson and Reno turners was well attended yesterday. Reno was represented by 50 visitors at Treadway's Park. The competition for prizes resulted in the following score. The first six took prizes in the order named:

Flik.....40	Caliber.....30
Marquard.....38	Mahahan.....28
Schnarf.....35	Barnett.....24
Hausen.....34	Alexander.....22
Fassett.....32	Cummings.....10
Raubut.....31

Shot Himself.

Wm. Ames, nicknamed "Dead-eye," shot himself through the ankle this morning at Antelope. It is feared that his foot will have to be amputated, as the instep is shattered all to pieces. Mr. Ames is well known here and made several fast friends in Reno. He is from the State of Maine. Dr. Bergman has gone out to attend to him.

An Old Pioneer.

John B. Gunther, according to his yearly programme, comes to the front with a new proclamation and a material reduction in prices. Gunther is an artist in his line and no one has ever complained of his work. The GAZETTE can guarantee that all who go to Gunther will be satisfied and will call again.

Fun on the Bristol.

Jarrett, of Jarrett & Palmer, is on the Coast with Fun on the Bristol. John Sheridan is the star. They will be here about the 25th. The Mastodon Minstrels will be in Reno early in September.

JOTTINGS.

The excursionists will return to-morrow.

E. A. Allen keeps a complete assortment of artists' paints, brushes etc.

The overland carries a good deal of fruit now. It had two carloads this morning.

The following assessments have been levied: Con. Pacific 40 cents, Caledonia 25 cents, Argenta 10 cents.

Advices from Honey Lake are to the effect that Mr. J. D. Byers was very sick and not expected to recover.

The Madison Square Theatre Co. 18 persons—passed through Reno this morning en route to Virginia, where they appear this evening. The same company will appear here next Friday evening.

A dispute between contractor Holmes and a gang of Chinamen working about four miles above town on the N. & O. resulted in a skirmish in which lively battling occurred on both sides.

It is learned from a reliable source that Levy Pope, well and favorably known in Reno, died of pneumonia at Lewis, Lander county, on May 23rd. He was buried at Battle Mountain. He leaves a wife and daughter, who are now residents of Wadsworth and who have the sympathy of this community.

Hazel Kirke.

At last Reno is to have Hazel Kirke. This is the phenomenal play that has achieved the longest run on record, and has electrified the whole country. Nearly sixty thousand people witnessed this extraordinary and beautiful play during the last four weeks in San Francisco, and on every presentation there was absolutely no standing room, while seats sold at a premium. All the San Francisco papers agree as to the artistic excellence of the Madison Square Theatre Company, and the people of Reno will, for once, have a chance to see the greatest dramatic triumph of the century represented by the very best organization extant. Seats can now be secured at the post-office, without extra charge, and we advise an immediate application for the theatre will undoubtedly be crowded on this great occasion. Over six thousand people attended the last performance of Hazel Kirke in San Francisco.

A New Departure.

Dan H. Pine, constable of Carson township, has leased the Lake House, and will conduct it as a first-class hotel in every respect. Mr. Pine has a very large acquaintance with the travelling public, and will take every precaution to ensure comfort for his patrons. The Lake House has the most pleasant location of any hotel in Nevada, and will no doubt resume its former popularity under the new management.

The Modern Nimrod.

Phi Bates came out to-day done up for a hunting tour. He looked like a masked battery without a ramrod. He was gently joshed about the game which he was to bring in, and immediately retired from the arena. The gun is now in soak to the GAZETTE editor and the game is still at large. If Phi gets the gun out of hock he will begin a search for Charley Ross.

The Minister Robbed Again.

Rev. Mr. McKelvey's house was broken into yesterday while the family was at church. This is the third time such an outrage has occurred. There were only a few dollars in the house. The robbers got about $5 out of the little boys' toy safe and a ring of Mrs. McKelvey's. They went up stairs and down rummaging through everything.

Home Again.

John T. Hutchinson, or "Jack Hutch," as his friends love to call him, has returned from an extended visit to the Eastern States. Hutch reports himself in good health, but did not have time to attend to the principal business which took him East. He will soon take hold of the lever on the V. & T. once more.

Stray Stock.

Jack Leathers, at Mud Lake Slough 30 miles north of Wadsworth, has taken up two horses, one white the other brown, both branded 14 on left thigh, fresh brands. There is also some other old brands on them. Both have saddle marks. The brown horse is rather a good looking horse, the white rather short and heavy.

E. A. Allen sells picture frames and cornices at lower prices than ever offered in the State.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Hurrah for the Fourth.

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.

Governor Foster sent the following telegram to the Governors of the States and Territories to-night:

Governor's Office,

Columbus, O., July 10.

To J. Harris M. Plaisted, Governor of Maine—The present indications strongly encourage the hope that President Garfield will recover from the effects of the horrible attempt upon his life. It must occur to all that it would be most fitting for the Governors of the several States and Territories to issue a proclamation setting apart a day to be generally agreed upon for thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God for the blessed delivery of the President, and for this great evidence of His goodness to this nation. If this suggestion meets your approbation, permit me to name the Governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Maryland and Ohio, as a committee to fix upon a day to be so observed. Please reply.

(Signed) CHARLES FOSTER.

The Lumbering Regions.

The Truckee Lumber Company is perhaps the best known institution of its kind on the coast. It has a large lumber yard in Salt Lake and an immense shop in San Francisco where they have men at work nailing up fruit boxes, besides their large double mill, furniture factories, planing mill and store in Truckee. They are now cutting about 65,000 feet of lumber a day, and expect to put on a night crew and cut a hundred thousand every 24 hours. They ship lumber all the way to Texas and always have vast quantities on hand. Anyone who needs anything in their line would do well to give them a call.

HEARSE TO LET

His "Own Dear Wife."

N. Y. Sun.

A meager husband than a young Chicago physician, as shown by testimony in court, it would be hard to find. He had a wealthy father, but dissipation had cut him off from money in that quarter, and his professional practice amounted to nothing. He married a girl who earned $30 a week in a millinery store, and allowed her to support him. Whenever she was ill, he sent her to her mother's home, in Michigan, and his letters during these periods were curious. He advised his "precious darling" to come back again as soon as possible and demanded an increase of pay from her employer; he urged her to try to get a railroad pass, so as to avoid expense; he thought it hard that his "own precious wife" couldn't re-engage at higher salary, adding, "I do not hope for wealth, but God knows I think we deserve a living." He assured her that her "longing and loving husband" had pawned his overcoat, and was in a great hurry to see her. She worked on patiently, when able, while he made no advance in his profession. At last his father died, and he came into his inheritance. He immediately deserted his wife, got a fraudulent divorce, and married a prettier girl.

Learn to Tread Water.

N. Y. Tribune.

While no instruction is required to tread water, it would be a good plan to become accustomed to keeping the body afloat in this way, in order to overcome the feeling of terror which people who cannot experience on being thrown into the water by an accident. A task with water of sufficient depth would answer for practice. The swimming schools would do well to afford facilities of treading water to persons who do not desire to take a course of swimming lessons. A few experiments would be sufficient to give them the sense of ability to take care of themselves in deep water, which is all that is necessary for safety. The position of the person who tread water is easier and safer than the sprawling attitude assumed in swimming. The difference between the two acts is that to swim is to propel the body through the water by vigorous movements, while to tread water is to merely to support the body by gentle movements in an upright position so as to keep the head in the air.

Miss Mayer's Marriage.

N. Y. Sun.

Although only 19, Alida Mayer has had a great amount of matrimonial trouble. She married a wealthy oil speculator at Corry, Pa., three years ago, and soon deserted him, stealing $5,000 of his money. She then went to live in Buffalo, where her beauty quickly won a second husband; and she lived happily with him but only for a few months. The first husband found her by means of detective, and she was compelled to fly without being able to steal more than a few hundred dollars from the second husband. In Chicago she married a third husband but here again she was again persecuted for the first and second husbands joined in the pursuit, and she had to hastily quit the third before she had robbed him at all to escape arrest for bigamy and larceny.

Bag-hot Bazar.

N. Y. World.

The following really occurred at the Bagshot bazar recently, in England: A young gentleman thought he fancied a certain article exposed for sale at one of the bazars, and he was certain he fancied the lady who presided at the bazar. He remarked therefore that he thought that particular article very pretty. The lady said: "Yes, it is very pretty. My mother sent it." "Ah! really," pursued the young gentleman, determined to discover the name of the owner of the eyes that had bewitched him. "Ah! really. Let me see, I think I have met your mother. Her name is—?" "The Queen," answered the lady. The young gentleman did not wait for the last train from Bagshot.

Harvard's Health.

N. Y. Sun.

During the academical year which ended June 29 Harvard College received more than $500,000 in donations, which is about twice the regular average. The actual resources of the college, however, are considerably less than they were seven or eight years ago. The interest earned upon $9,000,000 of college funds in 1875-4 was 8 1/2 per cent. "We shall do very well this year," said President Eliot, in his commencement dinner speech, "if we earn 5 1/2 per cent. The loss by the diminution of income from the funded property, supposing the funded property to have been all the time the same, has been 3 per cent. on $4,000,000, or $120,000 a year.

The Stalwart of the Future.

Boston Journal.

The Republican Stalwart of the future will not take Mr. Conkling for his model. The man claiming to be a Stalwart hereafter will only have his claim allowed in so far as he is a consistent advocate of progressive Republican ideas which, when carried into practice, will insure the best form of Government by the people for the people. He will be the most stalwart of Republicans who will exert the most potent influence and elevate the standard of political methods and action.
